PARISH VISION STATEMENT

WE, the parish of Our Lady of Victory, proclaim with joy the presence of Jesus in the world through Word, Sacrament, and deed. It is through our discipleship that we recognize our connection to God, our neighbor, and our deepest spiritual selves.

WE seek to live out the Gospel of Jesus Christ by: + Welcoming all with kindness, compassion and hospitality + Nourishing the faith life of the community through prayer, fellowship and education + Reverencing the dignity of each person by celebrating the beauty of life from conception to natural death + Nurturing the gifts of all so that each person may live out his or her unique and personal call from God + Caring for the needs of the less fortunate by empowering our parish community to answer that call.

WE, do this in the name of Jesus Christ and the mandate: "See those Christians how they love one another!"

Mass from OLV live-streamed on YouTube
Saturday at 5:30 pm

Dear Parishioners,

What a great Easter concert we had last week!

Our Choir is extraordinary, particularly for a parish choir. Joanna Pepe does a great job of bringing out the talent in the members!

The Bell Choir adds a great dimension to the musical performances under the direction of Lisa Kelly. Lisa is also the one who organizes the other professional musicians, Jim Stahl, Thomas Martin and Heather Arzberger. Jim also plays the guitar and sings at our Sunday 5:30 Mass each week.

The OLV School Choir sounds great - Maureen Husing has developed their young voices beautifully. It is extraordinary to hear them sing traditional Latin hymns like the Regina Caeli.

We are incredibly fortunate to have Steven Haufe as our parish organist and sound man and technology expert—just some of the hats he wears here at OLV!

And as you all experience, we are blessed to have Joanna Pepe as our music director and cantor. When Joanna sings you know it is coming not only from her voice, but from her heart and soul as well!

First Communions & May Crowning

May Procession and Crowning of the Blessed Mother statues.

Come and appreciate their heart-warming innocence!

This weekend we conclude our five First Communion Masses for our second graders. After the 10:30 Mass this weekend I invite our First Communicants to participate, wearing their First Communion outfits in our

Mothers Day

Of course Mothers Day is an opportunity to pay tribute to our wonderful Mothers. I'm sure those of you who are fortunate enough to have your mothers with you will celebrate with them today.

I would like to think about some other groups of mothers today:

- To all of our deceased mothers - and grandmothers - whose absence we painfully feel today.
- To mothers who have lost a child - before birth, in infancy, in childhood or in adulthood.
- To mothers who are estranged from their children.
- To all woman who are unable to be mothers
- To all those who act as mothers to other people's children

Please be assured that today is your day also - and you are all loved and supported through our prayers!

Christine Fuchs - Director of Faith Formation

After over 25 years of faithful service, Christine Fuchs will be stepping down from her role as Director of Faith Formation. Thousands of Floral Park children have been nurtured in their faith under her guidance! In particular, so many families are grateful for the beautiful celebrations of the Sacraments of First Holy Communion, First Reconciliation, and Confirmation which she coordinated! I'll have more to say as we express our appreciation to Christine in the upcoming weeks.

Please save the date of Sunday, June 14th at the 12 noon Mass to honor her and to greet her in Memorial Hall afterwards!

Praised be the name of Jesus Christ
now and forever!

The Discernment of Spirits

Getting a grip on your thoughts

Just because a thought comes to mind doesn't mean we need to consent to dwelling on it.

by Sr. Léonie Thérèse, SV

There is a battle being waged for our souls, and it happens between our ears. We have thousands of thoughts that swirl in our heads daily, and it can sometimes feel chaotic and confusing. It's easy to get in the habit of just accepting everything that floats across our minds, but not everything we think is necessarily good for us. Scripture urges us to "take every thought captive to obey Christ" (2 Cor 10:5) — but how? It starts by figuring out which voice I'm hearing.

Some of our thoughts are inspired by God, and some are just from us, but some can be suggestions from the evil one. These thoughts from the enemy are deliberately designed to derail us and turn us away from God. If we are unaware that both God and the enemy are proposing ideas to us, we are, in a way, handicapped in our ability to respond. Once we become aware that our thoughts can be influenced by something beyond us, we are already at an advantage. In order to more fully engage the spiritual battle in the realm of thought, we must be able to discern whose voice we are listening to. We can then either assent to the thought or reject it. In the tradition of St. Ignatius of Loyola, this is called "discernment of spirits."

How can we tell whether a thought is of God, or is a temptation or distraction from the enemy? In the moment, it can seem difficult to discern the origin of a thought. Most thoughts sound pretty convincing; but as we grow in awareness, we can start to notice patterns that help us to recognize where it is from.

When a thought leads us to feel shame, discouragement, hopelessness, or a sense of being stuck, these are some red flags that the enemy is behind that thought. Other indicators that the enemy is at work are absolutes like "always" and "never"; for example: "Things are never going to get better" or "You always make things worse!" Thoughts introduced into our minds by the enemy will often have a flavor of accusation, blame, confusion, or fear. The evil one does not respect our freedom, but often speaks with the language of "should"; for example: "You should do this, or else."
